

TABLEMAX'S ELECTRONIC TABLE GAME SYSTEM ACHIEVING HEIGHTENED DOMESTIC AND GLOBAL PLACEMENTS

LAS VEGAS (September 29, 2008) – TableMAX Corporation (TBLX.PK), a developer of electronic table games, today announced its recent progress in the placement of electronic table games. To date, TableMAX has installed six table game systems and has signed agreements or letters of intent for the placement of an additional 32 systems. TableMAX's table game systems have been or are scheduled to be placed in six states and four countries throughout the world, including Oklahoma, California, Mexico, Colombia and the U.S. military.

TableMAX is especially pleased to announce the upcoming installation of the first full 4-system carousel at a major casino resort in southern California. This resort is viewed as an influential property in the competitive California gaming market, and is considered to be influential in the gaming equipment decisions among domestic operators throughout North America.

TableMAX CEO Stephen Crystal said, "We have successfully launched our products to diverse domestic and global acceptance. Now we can head into G2E, the world's largest gaming expo, in November with more confidence than ever in our products as well as our sales team, and with a list of satisfied customers to back up our claims."

TableMAX believes that interest in its product is based on operators understanding the explicit value proposition offered through the cost saving technology paired with attractive business and pricing models. TableMAX's experience seems to have shown that demand is driven by operators searching for innovative ways to enhance their bottom line, appeal to a broader player base and continue to drive profitability in this challenging market.

The current product distribution success follows on prior global placements of TableMAX Systems in markets as diverse as Guatemala, Ireland, Portugal and Spain. Domestically, a representative sample of casino operators report TableMAX performance ranking at a 50 percent premium over and above the average slot machine.
